Tennessee Valley Civil War Round Table

A certified 501(c)(3) non-profit organization

Are you -

A teacher who needs help with lesson plans or presentations?

A pack or troop leader who wants to teach your scouts about the Civil War?

An organizational leader who wants a speaker to clear away myths and misinformation about the war?

Just someone who wants to know more about the pivotal event in our nation's history?

We can help!

We have over 150 members - - men and women; students, professional and academe; high school grads to PhDs; working and retired, experienced presenters and published authors.

We can provide subject matter experts, speakers, assistance, and reenactors in period garb and uniform.

*We are a community resource,
here for you.*

Please call
256-278-5533
for information
and scheduling.

If you have questions, we can direct you to print and electronic resources. You are welcome to attend our meetings that feature academic speakers and published historians.

We are members of your community dedicated to learning, understanding, and communicating to others the American Civil War its many dimensions -- not just its causes and campaigns, and its battles and leaders, but also the people -- their culture, customs, music, and life.
